HOMEWORK

The Carson City School District Board of Trustees recognize and acknowledge the educational validity of homework as an adjunct to and extension of the instructional program for students. As homework is an extension of the instructional process, the primary intent must be to improve the competency of the student in the particular topic for which it has been assigned. Conventional purposes for homework include practice, preparation, check for understanding, and development of work habits. Care must be taken by teachers and administrators to ensure that homework is well-chosen and properly directed towards these intents. Guidelines governing the assignment of homework will be provided to teachers and enforced by site administration.
